UNIVERSALLY POPULAR

The "Sunday School Lesson" published each week in this newspaper has been adopted by thousands of churches throughout the United States as a regular part of their weekly work.

It is a review and exposition of the international issues for each week, prepared by Dean Harold L. Lundquist of the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, a recognized leader in the nation's church work. Dean Lundquist has been active in seeking racial groups for peace, harmony, acquiring an insight into the needs of these groups for understandable explanations of Bible passages.

In view of his accomplishments in these fields, it is not surprising that Dean Lundquist's exposition of the weekly "Sunday School Lesson" is being used in almost every community of the nation. As teacher or student, you will find it extremely helpful.

HOW MUCH TO MOVE A WAR?

AS SOON as we can, we'll bring to bear on the Axis all the additional might we've been using against Germany.

What will it cost, this Moving Day of War? Estimate it in these terms: The job of moving millions of men from one front to another. Thousands of ships to carry the supplies of battle. Swarms of new-type aircraft to blast the path into enemy territory.

You can get an idea of the cost from the fact that Uncle Sam needs 7 billion dollars from us in the mighty Seventh War Loan—now!

The Seventh War Loan will call for the greatest bond-buying we have ever done.

ALL OUT FOR THE MIGHTY 7th WAR LOAN

Europe's Food Picture Is Grim

War Continued Too Far Into the Spring to Permit of Seasonal Planting.

SUPREMACY HEADQUARTERS
A battle for five and a half years. Europe finds itself, at the conclusion of peace, confronted with the grim specter of a continent with a food shortage which probably will mean more acute and widespread hunger in the first winter of peace than in any winter of war.

The war continued too far into the spring for Europe to feed herself through the coming winter from her own crops and produce. There is very little time for some planting which will help to meet the needs. It is because of this that the power-driven equipment gone and horses virtually exterminated, and the fact that 100,000,000 displaced Europeans still in Germany alone, the yield will be too small.

Europe never fully fed herself. It is regarded by relief and rehabilitation officials as a fact that this year's farm yield will be more than 50 per cent of normal. Also potato crop per 100; eggplant, half of normal; sweet pepper, 30 per dozen.

With an even spread of that yield there still would be a shortage because of a transport breakdown and international inequalities it is obvious that there can be no even spread.

Worst hit undoubtedly will be Holland and Poland, but France and Greece also will suffer.

But there is neither specific commitment nor definite assurance to what extent the Allies will together be able to fill the gap between what Europe produces and her utter minimum needs.

The UNRRA provides only the minimum through which the supply of food can be arranged.

Military government officials who will have charge of the food distribution to the western Allies' zone of occupation have declared specifically that the Germans will get a diet only slightly over one-half the standard which they will try to maintain for the liberated countries.

Belgium Picture Better.

The German diet is coming from what is left—and for as long as it lasts. It is estimated that total food stocks in storage and on the farms in Germany will not last beyond fall. That means that she must feed herself through the winter from her own crops. Most of these were either ruined or never planted.

Holland is in the most tragic position. She is on a starvation level now, and with almost 50 per cent of the most intensively farmed land inundated by salt water, she not only has lost her crops but has no hope of feeding herself now, but no chance of normal crops for several years.

Belgium is in a better condition. The situation in Denmark is not yet known exactly, but presumably that country will be able to provide for its own needs.

France this last winter of liberation and on into this spring is an example of the difficulties ahead. Last winter was the hungriest of the war for France as a whole. Even now into the spring there is almost no meat, butter or milk in Paris and holders of ration tickets seldom are able to turn them in for the actual groceries they were intended to represent.

Planting is less than 75 per cent of normal. France is getting back millions of deportees and prisoners of war too weak or too late to get the spring crops adequately under way.

It is good advice to follow not only during war years but every day. You can't help too much with a war.

The community and national war loan totals should reflect the war through. Regardless of what the War Bond score is today, it is not high enough unless you have gone to bat and bought bonds to the actual limit of your buying power.

FOOD AGAIN

CHILDREN in liberated Holland are again beginning to learn more about something better than subnormal food. More than 125 children die weekly, however, from lack of food.

From left, International Red Cross Relief for Holland, member agency of the National War Fund, has been distributing material to aid in feeding these children.
